In 1926, African-American historian Dr. Carter G. Woodson advocated for the observance of Negro History Week during the 2nd week in February because it marks the birthdays of two Americans who greatly helped African Americans win freedom in America -- Frederick Douglass and Abraham Lincoln. During the bicentennial celebration in 1976, Black History Week was expanded to the entire month and Black History Month has been observed every February since then.

February marks many other important milestones in African-American history. On February 1, 1865, Abraham Lincoln signed the 13th Amendment abolishing slavery. The 15th Amendment, granting black men the right to vote was adopted on February 3, 1870; on February 12, 1909 the NAACP was founded; and on February 25, 1870, Hiram Rhodes Revels, the first black US Senator, took the oath of office.

Many Black BetterWorld Heroes were born in February: Langston Hughes was born February 1, 1902; Rosa Parks was born February 4, 1913; Bob Marley was born February 6, 1945; Alice Walker was born February 9, 1944; Richard Allen was born February 14, 1766; Frederick Douglass was born February 14, 1818; John Lewis was born February 21, 1940; and W. E. B. DuBois was born February 23, 1868.

In the United Kingdom, Black History Month is celebrated in October.
"I don't know what the future may hold, but I know who holds the future."

"We intend to make this world the most beautiful, glorious planet that any human being can imagine..."
-- Hafsat Abiola
"Hating people because of their color is wrong. And it doesn’t matter which color does the hating. It’s just plain wrong."
-- Muhammad Ali
"Whereas our ancestors (not of choice) were the first successful cultivators of the wilds of America, we their descendants feel ourselves entitled to participate in the blessings of her luxuriant soil."

-- Richard Allen
"We cannot change the past, but we can change our attitude toward it. Uproot guilt and plant forgiveness. Tear out arrogance and seed humility. Exchange love for hate --- thereby, making the present comfortable and the future promising."

-- Maya Angelou
"We may have different religions, different languages, different colored skin, but we all belong to one human race."

-- Kofi Annan
"In order for us as poor and oppressed people to become part of a society that is meaningful, the system under which we now exist has to be radically changed... It means facing a system that does not lend itself to your needs and devising means by which you change that system."

-- Ella Baker

"While the tale of how we suffer, and how we are delighted, and how we may triumph is never new, it always must be heard."

-- James Baldwin
"If I've impacted on one heart, one mind, one soul, and brought to that individual a greater truth than that individual came into a relationship with me having, then I would say that I have been successful."

-- Harry Belafonte
"Our job, in working to achieve fairness and equity, is to sound the alarm about the unjust criminal justice system and demand that our leaders and those in power act now to halt this destructive, unfair treatment of our brothers and sisters, especially of our children."

-- James Bell
"If we accept and acquiesce in the face of discrimination, we accept the responsibility ourselves. We should, therefore, protest openly everything ... that smacks of discrimination or slander."

-- Mary McLeod Bethune
"The power of a movement lies in the fact that it can indeed change the habits of people. This change is not the result of force but of dedication, of moral persuasion."

-- Stephen Biko

"If you're looking for inner peace from the outside world, you're not going to get that. The inner peace starts with looking at you from the inside."

-- Mary J. Blige
"The civil rights movement didn't begin in Montgomery and it didn't end in the 1960s. It continues on to this very minute."

-- Julian Bond
"The role of the market place is to be an instrument of environmental change and policy making. We are all consumers with a great potential for change. Environmental protection begins at home."
-- Noel Brown, Former Director of the UN Environment Programme
"Grassroots groups challenge the "business-as-usual" environmentalism that is generally practiced by the more privileged wildlife-and conservation-oriented groups. The focus of activists of color and their constituents reflects their life experiences of social, economic, and political disenfranchisement."

-- Robert Bullard
"The well-being and the hopes of the peoples of the world can never be served until peace - as well as freedom, honor and self-respect - is secure."

-- Ralph Bunche
"How far you go in life depends on you being tender with the young, compassionate with the aged, sympathetic with the striving and tolerant of the weak and the strong. Because someday in life, you will have been all of these."

-- George Washington Carver
"Service is the rent you pay for room on this earth."

-- Shirley Chisholm

-- Janet Jackson
"Hold your head high, stick your chest out. You can make it. It gets dark sometimes, but morning comes. Keep hope alive."
-- Jesse Jackson
"We, as human beings, must be willing to accept people who are different from ourselves."
-- Barbara Jordan
“As a poet and writer, I deeply love and I deeply hate words. I love the infinite evidence and change and requirements and possibilities of language; every human use of words that is joyful, or honest or new, because experience is new... But as a Black poet and writer, I hate words that cancel my name and my history and the freedom of my future: I hate the words that condemn and refuse the language of my people in America.”

-- June Jordan

-- Barack Obama
"The time has come to make the protection of children -- all our children -- a common cause that can unite us across the boundaries of our political orientation, religious affiliation and cultural traditions."

-- Olara Otunnu
"I would like to be known as a person who is concerned about freedom and equality and justice and prosperity for all people."

-- Rosa Parks
“Race is the great taboo in our society. We are afraid to talk about it. White folks fear their unspoken views will be deemed racist. People of color are filled with sorrow and rage at unrighted wrongs. Drowning in silence, we are brothers and sisters drowning each other. Once we decide to transform ourselves from fearful caterpillars into courageous butterflies, we will be able to bridge the racial gulf and move forward together towards a bright and colorful future.”
